

NEW Santa Cruz County Livestock Demonstration Site Facility Tour

A cistern captures runoff from the paddock roof and uses it for watering the horses and arena dust control

When: Saturday, November 15, 2008 – Meet at 8:30 am

Where: Meet at Ecology Action – 211 River Street, Santa Cruz (The tour will travel throughout Santa Cruz County to Aptos, Scotts Valley, Davenport, and Santa Cruz and will return to Ecology Action)

Cost: FREE – Includes bus transportation to all sites, lunch, and refreshments

To Register Call Angela Stuart – 831.464.2950 ext 22 - SPACE IS LIMITED!

Are you interested in learning about how area residents have improved their livestock properties? Do you have mud issues in the winter? Do you need ideas on better manure storage? Are your arenas and paddocks more like ponds during the rainy season? Want to make your facility more eco-friendly?

Join us on Saturday, November 15 for a FREE tour of local livestock facilities who have implemented projects on their properties to address these challenges. The tour will include a first-hand look at manure bunker installation, paddock resurfacing, geo-textile installation, drainage restructuring, grassed waterways, bio-filtration systems, rainwater catchment, and more.

The Livestock and Land program has recently received additional funding for the 2009-2010 season. Hop on the bus and find out how you can qualify to receive money to make improvements on your property. Everyone in Santa Cruz, San Benito, South Santa Clara and Monterey Counties is eligible for funding.

www.livestockandland.org